The New Standard in Career and Postsecondary Planning

A unique planning resource for students and an invaluable service for parents.

Career Planning Made Easy

When it comes to career and postsecondary planning, high school students face an overwhelming number of options. Discussing these options with a parent often becomes part of the student's career and postsecondary planning process. As a parent, a few questions that you may consider are:

- How can I help my child learn more about their interests and skills?
- Where can I find out more about career options that interest my child?
- Where can I find out more about the schools and programs he or she is interested in attending?
- How can I help my child make sure they are taking the right mix of high school classes and are achieving the necessary grades for admission into the program they want to enter?
- Where can I find out more about financial aid and scholarships for my child's education?

StudentCounsellor.com provides the information and tools necessary to answer each of these questions. Your child's school has purchased an annual subscription to StudentCounsellor.com and he or she has been provided with a personal username and password.

StudentCounsellor.com is an excellent resource to help you and your child to make informed decisions about the future. With StudentCounsellor.com, you can be confident that your child will have all the information they need to set personal education and career goals.

How StudentCounsellor.com Works

StudentCounsellor.com is an Internet-based service that helps your children explore different career paths, determine postsecondary admission requirements, and plan their high school years to ensure that they have the courses and marks that they need to pursue their career goals. Your child is also able to explore their interests and personality and how these can relate to different careers. StudentCounsellor.com can be accessed from school, from home and anywhere that provides Internet access.

Accessing over 15,000 postsecondary programs and 1,200 careers

StudentCounsellor.com provides you and your child with detailed information on every aspect of an institution or academic program of interest, including information on study options, costs per semester, campus information, and more! StudentCounsellor.com provides information on:

- Over 1,300 Canadian universities, colleges, and vocational schools.
- These schools represent over 15,000 different postsecondary programs.

Also available are detailed descriptions of over 1,200 different careers, including typical starting salaries, work tasks, future outlooks and possible employers. Each career is linked to relevant programs, so that you and your child can explore not only what your child wants to do, but what education they need to achieve their career goals.

As program and admission requirements change, StudentCounsellor.com's database is updated to guarantee that your child will receive the most current information.

Accessing scholarship and bursary information

StudentCounsellor.com also details how much scholarship funding is available at postsecondary institutions. With information on over 5,000 first year scholarships, you and your child can determine your child's eligibility for over $30 million in funding.

Assess interests using Career Key

StudentCounsellor.com provides you and your child with access to an online personality assessment test that lends insight into careers that your child will likely find rewarding and satisfying. Career Key provides an excellent opportunity to discuss your child's interests and skills with him or her and to discuss career options she or he is interested in pursuing.

Career Key has been developed based on over 15 years of research and field testing and is widely used by career counsellors and educators.

StudentCounsellor.com is concerned with maintaining privacy. We do not release password-protected student information to third parties.
